

LEARN TO SWIM AT WEST HQ

It is important for young and new Australians to know how to swim. In fact, it is vital for everyone to learn to swim as a survival skill, not just for the pool, but for rivers, lakes, and oceans.

At Sydney Gymnastic and Aquatic Centre (SGAC) West HQ, our Learn to Swim programs are designed for all ages and abilities. Our skilled and highly trained instructors appreciate the health and care of your child is a priority. It is our priority too. We have implemented the following COVID-19 Safety Plan:

- / SGAC West HQ is a registered COVID-19 safe business
- / SGAC currently operates under the advised 1 person per 4sqm capacity restrictions
- / Strict record keeping for contact tracing
- / 1.5 m social distancing measures continually monitored with static and digital signage used in addition to venue management patrols
- / Hand sanitisation stations are located across the venue
- / Additional pre-COVID hygiene and cleaning practices are in place, especially in communal areas such as bathrooms and changerooms
- / Cleaning of all Learn to Swim equipment and toys after each class

- / SGAC staff have undergone COVID safe training
- / West HQ have a COVID-19 Safety Management Plan available for your perusal
- / All patrons and staff are encouraged to download the COVID-19 government app

In addition to the above:

- / We ask children only participate in Learn to Swim classes if they are well
- / We recommend swim students arrive with their swimmers on, ready for lessons, to minimise the use of changeroom facilities
- / SGAC is closed for casual swimming

This information is correct as of 17 July 2020. For further information regarding West HQ's COVID-19 Safety Plan or to enrol in SGAC's Learn to Swim program, please speak with one of our friendly SGAC team members.
